The Spirit of Responsible Govern-The advocates and friends of Respongained the crown by murder and violenced pointed to their success as proof of the approval of Providene,—so the Mc-Creight Ministry having been formed by doing violence to the letter and spirit of the British constitution establishing Responsible Government, direct the attention of the country to the approval of the spirit and letter of Responsible Government—of the country to the approval of the country as the defacte Ministry and alaims its allegiance. But baying and we doubt not but the verdict of our readers against the Ministry will be like the spirit of Responsible Government,— the verdict of history against those Kings who acquired the Crown by violating in who acquired the Crown by violating in an indefensible political trick.

THE RIGHT HON. THE EARL OF DALKEITH, M. P.
THE RIGHT HON. THE EARL OF DALKEITH, M. P. the grossest manner the law of the land.

In the first place, then, let us begin at the beginning. In doing so we find that a very able man, remarks the Law Times, and an admirable County Court Judge, and all a Pall Mall, East, London, an admirable County Court Judge, and all a Pall Mall, East, London, and Me McCreight to representatives were willing to support coat at the door of the bankruptcy laws.
him as test limister. In that he failed, because he never asked either a maship was opened, and as Mr. Robertson such an amount of discontent among cepting the Premiership, he entered the open portals and commenced to earn his 4000 dollars a year. Next, Mr. McCreight visited New Westminster, and with but little persuasion induced the Hon. Harry to accept the portfolio of Lands and Works. Not a single member of New Westminster district was consulted, as to whether be-the Premier-was the man of their choice, or whether they concurred in his selection of the Hon. Henry Holbrook. Here then is violation of the spirit of our constitution, number when the Hon. Henry vowed that he was its object simply the recording of births, mar-not a warming-pan for a Cariboo member. not a varning-pan for a Cariboo member. He desired his neighbors, and secured his seet by deception,—by what possibly our conscientions Premier would call an electionsering trick—happy expedient to escape from the charge of false preten-Next Mr. Walkem was invited to take a seal in the Cabinet. There was not frizzled herse-hair enough in it before, thought the Premier; hence a little specimen more was got in. So Mr. Walkem accepted. Mr. Holbrook vacated,—and not a single member of Cariboo beside the present Chief Commissioner was consulted whether he was the choice of the members of that constituency, and aeither were majority of the members of the Province consulted as to whether he was acceptable to them. There, now, is the way the Ministry was formed,—and to our actonishment the thing is called a Responsible Ministry.—a People's Ministry. In other words, Mr. McCreight, Mr. Robertson, Mr. Holbrook, and Mr. Walkem are the people!! in the Premier's estimation. The twenty-one members seides were unworthy of being consulted. What a commentary on self-government!
If that he creating a Ministry according to the well-understood wishes of the people, then we know nothing of popular scattlion and Responsible Government? Bet that completed the first part, it did not end the usurpation. It may be said it was impossible to consult a majority of the members. False! Very false! For with the exception of Cowichan members, thirteen members could have been consulted personally at Victoria and New Westminster by the Premier: and thirteen are a majority of Premier; and thirteen are a majority of the twenty-five. A But he treated the on with silent contempt. Having succeeded in getting possession of the Government, new comes the Premier with his frizzle-wigs and warming-pan, like the kingly usurpers of the past, and asks the country and their representatives to support his Government,—the Government and place will be promptly remedied on application at the Publication Office, next door to the Bank of British Columbia, Government de jure. Everybody who will not bow down to the usurpers are to be put down as factions. The weak-kneed are to be frightened,-the mercenary to be bought, -and when no other means can captivate. they are to be titillated in the throat with champagne, and their stomachs lined with roast beef and good capons But it won't do. There is a gross very gross deception about the manner of asking support. A Responsible Minissible Government fully expected that it try is not the choice of the Governor, would have a fair trial; that the People ner of the Premier, nor of the individual would have been allowed an opportunity Ministers, but of the majority of the to create a People's Government - Assembly; and Mr. Premier McCreight, Government of their own choice—their own selection; that they would have show their consistent opposition to that been left free and unconstrained to select form of administration by attempting to their office bearers, -the heads of de- impress their unconstitutionally formed partments,—the Ministry. In this they have been most eggregiously deceived, their representatives,—and ask the memand are now forced whether or not to admit that an unfair advantage has been taken of them in forming the Ministry, and on that an attempt is being make the representatives,—and ask the members for the city, for the Island, for New Westminster, central Columbia, and Cariboo—ask them individually, would you if left to your free choice have selected such a Ministry as Mr. McCreight has done? and the answer witnest the members of them individually. constitutional Ministry. Like those an exception would have been—"No! kings in English history—with which the student is familiar—who having you are not our choice." But

But on whom He smiles an approval. But any who will submit to a Ministry we are prepared to show to any one created by a trick,—no matter what familiar with Responsible Government, plausible pretences may be put forward that the Tormation of the McCreight in their defence, nor how much purchased Ministry is a clear and undoubted violation of the constitution, and an attempt We can't think that political morality has to hold their position by trickery and yet sunk so low, -nor that members are usurpation. Let us examine this matter, so lost to a sense of independence, as to the Governor invited Mr. McCreight to form a Ministry under our new constitution. Making every allowance for circumstances, and taking a broad view of gests some perplexities. He says that bankthe matter, we are willing to concede that the Governor could not well pass over his Attorney General,—the senior member for Victoria city first and invite member for Victoria city first, and invite any one else to form a Ministry. But that being done, and Mr. McCreight having undertaken the work of forming the Ministry, then the responsibility of the Governor ended, so far as we can see at present. Now, then, the Crown having started the formation of a Responsible Ministry, let us see how its agent,—the Premier,—performed his part of the work. Premier McCreight's first duty was to find out whether a majority of the any one considered accurate when he lays the high price of his was to find out whether a majority of the accurate when he lays the high price of his

Not only should there be precision of CANNIBALISM.—A squaw was the victim of language in prescribing stimulants, but we Light brown bair with a clear skin, is a necessary to give the sanction of our special prescription to them. Unquestionably there are many diseases in which they need form no part of our treatment. Debility is not an alcohol. Doubtless, whatever lunatics may say to the contrary, there are states and degrees of it which urgently call for some disposition, a readiness to forgive, with a form of sloobol. But there are many states desire to add to the happiness of others.

Persons with fine light brown or auburn f weakness quite curable without it, in which ordinary forms of food, with or without the hair inclined to curl or friz, are quick temcustomary quantity of wine or beer, are all pered, and are given to resentment and that are needed, or in which some extra food, revenge. such as beef.tea or milk, will meet the necessities of the case. Inglish Barliamentary Distribut-(From the Daily News.) Sir Charles Dilke having given notice of a measure which he will introduce into the House of Commons early in the coming agree or disagree with his suggestion of per-La Plante. He was remanded until Monday sonal representation, the enormous inequalities which at present exist are absolutely in-capable of defence. It would not be difficult to show that the Parliamentary deadlock of last Session was chiefly due to the supremacy which our representative system accords to small minorities of the population. The present Parliament is sometimes called by the cant name of the Householders' Parliament ; but what householders does it represent? Of the existing 653 members, it is true, more than half are elected by household suffrage, and the rest are elected either by the country suffrage, or by the suffrages of the learned bodies. But in such boroughs as Much Wenlock and Cricklade, East Retford and New Shoreham, the householders are rather agricultural villagers than townspec-ple. If we omit from the boroughs those composite places which are only groups of villages or tracts of agricultural country, we shall find that the householders of the towns have considerably less than half the legisla-tive power of the House of Commons in their hands. This arrangement may be capable of defence. It is quite possible that, even with hese agricultural boroughs given to the counties, the urban population may prove to have its full share of the representation, and that the rural population is no more than fairly represented. There are in the boroughs 10,655,930 people, and the counties outside the boroughs 12,048,178. The oroughs, therefore come within a million and a half of the population of the count ies, and the whole tendency is townwards. In the last ten years the counties have increased by a little over half a million, and the boroughs by more than two millions. If this rate of increase continues, the boroughs will in 1881, have as large a population as the counties, and the balance of representation will have to be readjusted in their favour At present the balance is about even. But the country suffrage is not househeld suffrage absurd to speak of the House of Commons as Householders' Parliament.

The proposal of Sir Charles Dilke applies at present only to the householders. His demand is simply this, that a householder in Marylebone, or in the Gity of London, or in Marylebone, or in the City of London, or in Birmingham, shall be equal in political lambs, the youngest in the market; also a weight to a bouseholder in Truro, in Abingdon, or in Carrickfergus. It is difficult to see will every day become more and more imperative in its demand for attention. This is the distribution of seats in the elected House of Parliament. No further extension of the over it; both Yale and Hope are out of fresh meatin consequence. French Creek, Big Bend, elected Mara and Todd.
